MAYOR'S MESSAGE

Mayor's Message

Business life in Liverpool is continuing to bounce back following a tough past year.

Our City Economy team is busy providing support to businesses in the Liverpool area with several initiatives to stimulate the local economy following the impact of COVID-19.

Recently, I was excited to be at the opening of Ed.Square Town Centre, a great new shopping precinct at Edmondson Park. This development will provide many opportunities for local businesses.

As the opening of Western Sydney International Airport draws closer, confirmation of the M12 motorway construction is welcome news.

This motorway will service the needs of many businesses which will operate in and around the Airport.

Liverpool's CBD is also undergoing a transformation with the construction of Liverpool Civic Place. Along with new Council facilities, Liverpool Civic Place will provide high-quality office space for other businesses in the heart of Liverpool, as well as community facilities and public spaces.

It is an exciting time to be operating a business in the Liverpool area, and the opportunities will only grow in years to come.

SOCIAL HOUSING - ANGLICARE

Western Sydney apartment buyers have embraced a pioneering $100 million project on three sites from Anglicare that mixes build to sell product with social and affordable accommodation, in what is believed to be an Australian first.

The business model is that Anglicare holds and rents out a proportion of the development to under-resourced people in urgent need of accommodation, which is 73 per cent in the case of the western Sydney apartments, and sells the rest at affordable prices relative to nearby developments.

Women aged over 55 will live in the social housing component of the developments at Mount Druitt, Liverpool and Fairfield, which comprise 341 studio, one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Prices start at $299,000 and top out at $580,000.
